

The Disruptions to Arbitration Proceedings That May Represent a Strategy to Win the Merits of a Dispute

Event type: Webinar

Date: Tuesday, 21 September 2021

Time: 6.30pm – 8.00pm
(GMT +3)

Location: Online

Event description:

Arbitration is often chosen because of its procedural flexibility. However, such a flexibility is often abused by a party having a losing position.

This webinar aims at describing some procedural arguments and strategies that may affect arbitration proceedings and ultimately have an impact on the merits of a dispute.

Bifurcation claims, anti-suit injunctions, challenges to the arbitral tribunal and parallel judicial proceedings are examples of procedural initiatives that will be analysed during the webinar.
