The East Midlands Branch of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators is pleased to present what promises to be a lively all-day Advanced Mediation Workshop conducted by Andrew Parsons.

If you are a front-line practitioner in mediation, been involved in mediation in any way or just interested to learn about current “hot topics” this is a Workshop you should attend.

If you have any first-hand experiences (good or bad) you would like to discuss, please feel free to do so. PLEASE NOTE: To encourage full, free and frank discussion “Chatham House” rules will apply.

Andrew is an experienced barrister, mediator and arbitrator. He is known as “the quiet man on the corner” in dispute resolution, including mediation and arbitration. For many years he has been committed to the use of dispute resolution processes such as mediation as a more sensible and civilised way to resolve disputes. With others worldwide, he has helped to pioneer a flexible approach to dispute resolution, encouraging a sequential and/or combined approach to processes, such as hybrid arbitration/mediation or “arb-med”. Since qualifying as a commercial mediator in 1998 he has conducted over 600 mediations, including mediations and hybrid arbitrations and mediations overseas. He is a Fellow of the Institute and Freeman of the Worshipful Company of Arbitrators.

The Workshop fee is £50 plus VAT and includes materials, refreshments and lunch.
